Style Sheet for Authors

November 2018

Please observe the following formatting guidelines when preparing articles for submission to Research in Film and History.

General points

Texts should be submitted to film-history@uni-bremen.de.

Use MS Word file formats .doc/.docx/.rtf, font Baskerville 12 pt., 1.5 line spacing, justified text.

Leave a blank line between paragraphs.

Turn off automatic hyphenation.

Use subheadings to break up the text logically.

Use images/videos to illustrate the arguments made in the text.

Article length

Articles for regular issues should not exceed a total length of 25,000 characters (including footnotes).

Articles for the “new approaches” section should not exceed a total length of 150,000 characters (including footnotes).

Titles in text

Set film titles in all caps and state the production year and country on first mention.

Set titles of plays, performances, novels, etc. in italics.

Use double or single quotation marks, rather than italics, for emphases (“quotation”, ‘other’).

Quotations

Longer quotations of three or more lines in length should be set off leaving a blank line, without additional formatting or quotation marks.

Please use endnotes. Enter them manually (i.e. not using an automated function) as a numeral in square brackets: [2]. Use shortened notes from the second mention onward.

Journal article

In a note, cite specific page numbers. In the bibliography, include the page range for the whole article. For articles consulted online, include a URL or the name of the database. Many journal articles list a DOI (Digital Object Identifier). A DOI forms a permanent URL that begins <https://doi.org/>. This URL is preferable to the URL that appears in your browser's address bar.

Notes

1. Susan Satterfield, "Livy and the Pax Deum," Classical Philology 111, no. 2 (April 2016): 170.
2. Shao-Hsun Keng, Chun-Hung Lin, and Peter F. Orazem, "Expanding College Access in Taiwan, 1978–2014: Effects on Graduate Quality and Income Inequality," Journal of Human Capital 11, no. 1 (Spring 2017): 9–10, <https://doi.org/10.1086/690235>.
